Minister's Introduction

The machinery-of-government changes following the Queensland State election in late March 2012 provided an opportunity for the Government to strengthen our agenda to improve service delivery and develop innovative policies. This is evidenced by the efforts made by Queensland Public Sector agencies and Ministers to further the objects of Queensland's Right to Information Act 2009 and the Information Privacy Act 2009 (the Acts).

The Acts commenced on 1 July 2009 and provide the people of Queensland with a right of access to information in the government's possession or under the government's control unless, on balance, it is contrary to the public interest to give the access. In addition, the Information Privacy Act 2009 protects personal information held by government.

On 9 October 2012, the Premier announced an 'open data' revolution for the Queensland Government with an aim of releasing as much government data as possible to encourage the private sector to develop innovative new services and solutions for the State. This website is located at: <https://data.qld.gov.au/>.

On 22 February 2013, sections 78 and 54 of the RTI Act were amended, along with the insertion of section 78B into the RTI Act. The amendments refer to the disclosure log requirements which apply following the commencement of Part 2 of the Right to Information and Integrity (Openness and Transparency) Amendment Act 2012. The new disclosure log requirements will ensure more documents and government information is proactively released to the general public. Additional information in relation to these amendments will be reported on in the 2012-13 Right to Information and Information Privacy Annual Report.

As Attorney-General and Minister for Justice, it is one of my statutory responsibilities to provide Parliament with a report on the operation of the Acts as set out in the Right to Information Regulation 2009 and the Information Privacy Regulation 2009 regarding access and amendment applications. This report addresses these requirements and contains important statistical information.

This is the third annual report to the Queensland Parliament on the operation of the Acts and covers the reporting period 1 July 2011 to 30 June 2012.

I am pleased to present the Right to Information and Information Privacy Annual Report 2011-2012 to Parliament.

JARROD BLEIJIE MP

Overview

The 2011-12 financial year has seen significant changes with a new Government, Premier and new Ministers, with the associated change of ministerial responsibilities.

This annual report covers the full 2011-12 financial year reporting regarding the operation of the Right to Information Act 2009 (RTI Act) and the Information Privacy Act 2009 (IP Act).

The primary object of the RTI Act is to give a right of access to information in the government's possession or under the government's control unless, on balance, it is contrary to the public interest to give the access.

The IP Act works in parallel with the RTI Act and provides for the fair collection and handling of personal information by Queensland Government agencies; and a right of access to, and amendment of, personal information in the government's possession or under the government's control unless, on balance, it is contrary to the public interest to give the access or allow the information to be amended.

The IP Act sets out 11 Information Privacy Principles (IPPs) with which all agencies must adhere, except for Queensland Health, which is subject to the National Privacy Principles (NPPs). The IPPs and NPPs govern how Queensland Government agencies collect, store, use and disclose personal information.

Releasing government information

The process of routinely releasing government information to the public is commonly referred to as the "push" model. Under this model, information is released administratively via mechanisms which include agencies' publication schemes and disclosure logs. As a result, access applications for information under the legislation are only required as a last resort.

Publication Scheme

A publication scheme is a structured list of an agency's information that is readily available to the public, free of charge wherever possible. Under the RTI Act, every government agency which is subject to that Act must have a publication scheme.

Disclosure Log

Disclosure logs form part of the "push" model where information released under an RTI application is made available for access to a wider public audience by being published on agency websites. They provide speedy access to information already released under the RTI application process. They can provide a cost and time benefit to both the individual and agency by reducing the number of additional applications under the RTI Act for similar information.

Maintaining the "push" model

In the reporting period (2011-12 financial year), agencies continued to:

- further the adoption of the "push" model principles through the increased use of administrative access, publication scheme and disclosure log releases;
- maintain their web-based publication scheme to ensure information is current and up-to-date, including the ongoing maintenance of their disclosure log;

- develop policies, protocols and procedures to maintain the publication scheme and disclosure log as well as deal with the transfer of personal information outside of Australia pursuant to section 33 of the IP Act.

Furthering the objects of the Acts

In the reporting period, agencies made efforts to:

- provide officers with RTI and IP awareness training for cross-skilling of RTI decision makers;
- provide IP awareness training to individuals and business units, including new officers at corporate induction sessions;
- use redaction technology in the processing of all RTI and IP access applications in order to make processing more efficient and productive;
- implement, upgrade and support administrative access schemes to facilitate proactive and timely disclosure of information; and
- engage their RTI and IP practitioners in regular RTI and IP Managers' forums which assists to build strong networks across Queensland's state and local government agencies and statutory authorities.

Reporting requirements

Legislative basis

Section 185 of the RTI Act and section 194 of the IP Act require statistical and other information to be collected from Ministers and agencies. The following outlines each requirement:

- Section 185 (1) RTI Act and section 194 (1) IP Act requires the Attorney-General and Minister for Justice to prepare the report and table it in Parliament.
- Section 185(2) RTI Act and section 194(2) IP Act refers to the Right to Information Regulation 2009 (the RTI Regulation) and the Information Privacy Regulation 2009 (the IP Regulation) which set out the details of the information required to be included in the report (refer to Appendix 1).
- Section 194(3) of the IP Act - An annual report under this section may be included as part of an annual report the Minister is required to give under the Right to Information Act.

In this report, the Attorney-General and Minister for Justice has reported on both the RTI Act and IP Act statistics for the period 1 July 2011 to 30 June 2012.

Data from all Ministers and agencies covered by the RTI and IP Acts were collected and collated by the Department of Justice and Attorney-General for inclusion in this report.

Details of the matters prescribed under section 8 of the RTI Regulation and section 6 of the IP Regulation for the 2011-12 financial year are set out in Appendices 2 – 21.

Significant machinery-of-government changes in the reporting period

Following Queensland's State election in March 2012, the Government announced changes to the structure of portfolios and organisational units within government departments. Therefore, during the 2011-12 reporting year there was a change of ministerial responsibilities. All figures have been reported based on the actual applications processed by individual RTI and Privacy units during the reporting period.

All machinery-of-government (MoG) changes from 3 April 2012 are summarised in the following table:

Explanation of terms used in this report

Term	Explanation
Access application	An access application is an application for information made under either the RTI Act or Chapter 3 of the IP Act.
Access charge	Access charges are charges prescribed under a regulation and payable for being given access to documents. In the reporting period, for example, photocopying charges were 20 cents for each A4 page.
Amendment application	An amendment application is an application made under the IP Act to have personal information amended on the basis that it is inaccurate, incomplete, out of date or misleading.
Application fee	An application fee is the fee prescribed in the RTI Regulation and payable for an access application under the RTI Act. In the reporting period, the application fee was $39.00.
Internal Review	An internal review is a review of a decision within an agency by a person who is no less senior than the original decision maker.
External Review	An external review is a review by the Information Commissioner of a decision made by an agency or Minister.
Processing charge	Processing charges are prescribed in the RTI Regulation for searching for, or retrieving a document, and making, or doing things related to making, a decision on an application. In general, processing charges are payable for RTI Act applications where an agency or Minister spends more than five hours processing an application. In the reporting period, the processing fees were $6 per 15 minutes or part thereof.
Portfolio/agencies	Agencies within a Minister's administrative responsibility are reported on under the relevant portfolio heading. For example, the Justice and Attorney-General portfolio includes the Department of Justice and Attorney-General and the Office of the Attorney-General and Minister for Justice, as well as the agencies such as the Crime and Misconduct Commission, the Queensland Ombudsman and WorkCover Queensland.

Summary of data

The detailed data obtained from Ministers and agencies is set out in Appendices 2 – 21 of this report and includes information required under:

- subsections 8(1)(a) to (g), 8(1)(j) and 8(2) of the RTI Regulation; and
- subsections 6(a) to (g) and 6(j) of the IP Regulation.

Disciplinary action

In relation to subsection 8(1)(h) of the RTI Regulation and subsection 6(h) of the IP Regulation, Ministers and agencies have advised that there has been no disciplinary action instigated against an officer arising from the administration of the Acts.

Proceedings brought for offences

Ministers and agencies have advised no proceedings were brought for offences against section 175(1) or (3) of the RTI Act or section 184(1) or (3) of the IP Act (subsection 8(1)(i) of the RTI Regulation and subsection 6(i) of the IP Regulation).

Efforts by agencies or Minister to further the object of the RTI Act or the IP Act

Table 6 (page 17) summarises the efforts made by agencies and statutory authorities during the 2011-12 financial year which build on efforts made in the previous year. Efforts to further the objects of the legislation are required under section 8(1)(k) of the RTI Regulation and section 6(k) of the IP Regulation.

Applications under the repealed Freedom of Information Act 1992

There were no applications carried over at 1 July 2011 under the repealed Freedom of Information Act 1992 (refer to section 8(2) of the RTI Regulation).

Detailed information for each agency is presented in the appendices and summarised in the tables and figures referred below:

Table 1	Number of RTI/IP access and amendment applications received by State Government (including Ministers) and local governments (total), 2011–12 Shows the total number of RTI/IP access and amendment applications received by State Government (including Ministers) and local governments (total) in 2011-12. The number of applications received is 13,101 being a decrease from last year's total of 13,479.
Table 2	Number of access and amendment applications received, 2000–01 to 2011–12 Shows the total number of RTI and IP Act access and amendment applications received by Ministers and agencies in the last 12 years. There has been a slight reduction in the number of applications compared with 2009-10 after slight increases in preceding years.
Figure 1	State and local government RTI and IP access applications, 2011–12 Shows that the State Government continues to receive approximately similar numbers of RTI and IP access applications whereas RTI access applications continue to outnumber IP access applications at local government level.
Figure 2	Access application by level of government, 1992–93 to 2011–12 Shows total access applications received by state and local government during the period 1992-93 to 2011-12. There has been a slight reduction in the number of applications compared with 2009-10 after a period of slight increase in preceding years.
Table 3	Number of internal reviews received by portfolio, 2011–12 Shows the number of internal reviews received during the period. There has been a small increase from last year's total of 257 to 271 reviews for 2011-12.

Reference	Comments
Table 4	Percentage of pages released in full or part, 2000–01 to 2011–12 Sets out the percentage of pages released in full or part by all Ministers and agencies (including local government) in response to access and amendment applications over the last 12 years. These percentages are based on a comparison of the total number of pages released with the total number of pages considered when assessing applications. The data show that the percentage of pages released during 2011-12 is similar to the last seven years.
Figure 3	Number of IP amendment applications received by government type, 1992–93 to 2011–12 Shows the number of IP amendment applications received by state and local governments.
Table 5	Amount of fees and charges by portfolio, 2011–12 Details the fees and charges received. The total revenue received amounts to just under $0.5m.
Table 6	Efforts by agencies to further the object of the RTI Act or the IP Act Shows information provided by agencies about their efforts in the 2011-12 reporting period to further the objects of the RTI and IP Acts (as required under subsection 8(1)(k) of the RTI Regulation and section 6(k) of the IP Regulation).

Notes about Appendices 2 to 21

Use of Not Applicable (N/A)

Table 1 in each of the appendices records the number of access and amendment applications received for each agency/portfolio. The last column of Table 1 shows the number of internal reviews received as a percentage of finalised applications. Either 0.0% or N/A may appear in this last column:

- 0.0 appears where no internal reviews were received, but some applications were finalised
- N/A appears where no applications were finalised.

Deletion where no data returned

Where an agency has not returned any data the line has been deleted from the table.

Disclosure logs section 8(1)(d) RTI Regulation

Not all documents considered will be published on a disclosure log. The RTI Act provides only for documents that do not contain the personal information of an applicant to be included in a disclosure log, and Ministerial Guidelines provide that certain information should not be included. In addition, access to some documents may have been provided in 2010-11, with documents being considered for publication or published to a disclosure log in 2011-12. In those cases, publication in 2011-12 will be reported in that year's annual report.

Recording refusal of access – section 8(1)(c) RTI Regulation and section 6(c) IP Regulation

Section 47(3)(a) of the RTI Act provides that access to a document may be refused to the extent the document comprises exempt information under section 48. Section 48(4) of the RTI Act (exempt information) defines exempt information as information that is exempt information under Schedule 3. Refusals of access to exempt information may therefore be recorded as either refusals under section 48 or Schedule 3.

Section 47(3)(b) provides that access to a document may be refused to the extent the document comprises information the disclosure of which will be contrary to the public interest under section 49. Schedule 4 then sets out the factors for deciding the public interest. Refusals of access to 'contrary to the public interest' information may therefore be recorded as either refusals under section 49 or Schedule 4.

Griffith University - An error has been identified in the RTI and IP Annual Report 2010-11 which states - 'on hand 30 June 2011 c'fwd' figure of one for IP amendment applications. This should have reflected zero.

Queensland University of Technology - An error has been identified in the RTI and IP Annual Report 2010-11 which states - 'on hand 30 June 2011 c'fwd' figure of zero for IP access applications. This should have reflected two.

Incorrect figures were reflected in the RTI and IP Annual Report 2009-10. Therefore some of the figures contained in the 2010/11 report were also incorrect. All figures supplied for the 2011/12 report are accurate and correct.

Notes:

Percentages do not sum down the column, but reflect percentage totals across the row.

Previous year carry forward figures for Gold Coast Health Service District and Rockhampton Health Service District were assessed as being inaccurate in the 10-11 period. This was due to changes in reporting methods and human error. These have been rectified on the current report. The actual figures listed here are correct.

* An error has been identified in the RTI and IP Annual Report 2010-11 which states - 'on hand 30 June 2011 c/fwd' figure of 15 for RTI access applications. This should have reflected 16. In addition, 'on hand 30 June 2011 c/fwd' figure of 3 for IP access applications. This should have reflected 5.

* The "On Hand 30 June 2011 C'Fwd" figure for RTI access applications reported in the 2010/11 RTI and IP Annual Report differs from the "On Hand 1st July 2011 B'Fwd" figure in the 2011/12 RTI and IP Annual Report. This is due to a different reporting method in capturing these figures from the electronic database system. Therefore, the number of "Finalised 30 June 2012" applications and "On Hand 30 June 2012 C'Fwd" applications do not equal the "Total" number of applications.
